

Thanks so much for your interest in our treatment for EMPHYSEMA (COPD).

We've published our results for EMPHYSEMA, which you can download from our website at <http://www.genomed.com/pdf/diabetes.technology.therapeutics.pdf> (This is a large file because it has colored graphs; you'll need a fast Internet connection, like a DSL line, to download it).

We can significantly slow down the progression of this disease.

Since our case report has been published, it is no longer a trial, but rather “state of the art.” Our policy is to run trials for free, but to charge a Disease Management fee once a treatment has been published in a peer-reviewed medical journal. Our annual fee is $200 (payable by check or credit card).

Unfortunately, the patient still has to pay out of their own pocket. Insurance won't yet cover our fee.

We'd love to work with your current physician, in which case he/she will receive $20 for their participation in our Clinical Outcomes Improvement Program (COIP®). If you don't have a physician who wants to participate, we might be able to find one for you locally among the physicians already working with us. As a last resort, you could always come to my office in St. Louis to get started. I charge $100 extra for each office visit.

If you'd be interested in proceeding, please let me know. The next step is for me to send you a Confidentiality Agreement and the paperwork for getting started. We prefer sending everything by e-mail, if at all possible.

Sincerely yours,

David W. Moskowitz, MD, MA (Oxon.), FACP
Chairman, CEO and Chief Medical Officer
Tel. 314.983.9938
dwmoskowitz@genomed.com